• “Little Bit’s staff, volunteers and parents of young riders offer such dedication and industry; and born out of their enthusiasm, children with special needs are given an incredible opportunity and are honored in their efforts.”

• “Hippotherapy need not be regarded as ‘unproven’ or nonscientific but, rather, should be regarded as an innovative means of delivering very conventional therapy to children with special needs.”

“Little Bit represents one of the most truly ‘natural environments’ in providing therapeutic support for children with special needs.”

• “For those children with special needs who have had the opportunity to ride at Little Bit, whether in the presence or absence of a science that answers ‘how’, I am struck by the extent to which children’s developmental progress changes after each and every ride and cumulatively. It is not only their postural control, balance and coordination and gross motor skills that may be altered, but also, it is their communication, their social engagement and their countenance that changes.”

• “Much of the success of Little Bit has originated from the quiet, though nevertheless relentless, and compassionate commitment to children with special needs.”
