

Unleash Your Strengths-Based Leadership Horsepower!

“Such a great workshop!” – Strategy Senior Manager, Salesforce/Tableau

Ready to tap into and unleash your natural talents & strengths to increase collaboration, productivity, sales, innovation, and employee engagement?

This workshop builds strengths-based leadership skills and practical experience to guide you to unleash your individual and team leadership horsepower.

COURSE OVERVIEW

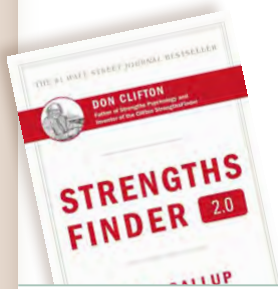

Get safely out of your comfort zone by working with a horse to learn and apply strengths-based leadership!

This 1-day workshop uses the CliftonStrengths® (formerly Clifton StrengthsFinder®) concepts to help you master proven leadership principles to know your own strengths, know the strengths of others, and empower effective teams. Participants will leave with tools, strategies, and application experience to effectively leverage their strengths and the strengths of others.

BENEFITS OF ATTENDING

DESCRIPTION

Our methodology, based on research and experience of developing leaders in more than 20 countries over 30 years, uses horses to teach strengths-based leadership concepts through low-risk, experiential learning. The course content is developed by active-status Gallup-certified Strengths Coaches and distinguished horse trainers.

Attendees will learn parallels between leading horses and leading people, helping them to retain the newly learned skills and tactics so they are equipped to apply them within your organization. Half of the day is spent in the classroom and half in the horse arena. Special accommodations are made for attendees not comfortable being near horses. Horse experience, mounting horses, and riding horses are not required for this training.
